

Second Gala
Week Begins
For Society

Events to Outshine Brilliant Affairs of Last Few Days, and Polo Promises Added Excitement

Several Weddings
Among Features

Miss Hewlett Will Become
Bride; Brown-Appleton
Ceremony on October 3

POLO horse shows, weddings, dinners and dances made the week, which came to a close yesterday, the most brilliant of the fall season. Society gathered from all over the country for the polo games at Meadow Brook, and there was much entertaining for the visitors from Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and other social centers, and for the foreigners and the polo players. All the country places on the island have been filled with guests for the last few days, and many luncheons, dinners and a few dances have been given.

The largest affair was the dinner and dance given last night by Mr. and Mrs. W. Goodby Loew, at Loewmoor, their country estate at Old Westbury, L. I., for their daughters, Miss Florence and Miss Evelyn Loew.

Many dinners were given before the dance, among them one by Mr. and Mrs. Loew, Mr. and Mrs. Low and their entire family, including their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Main Post Jr., were in attendance at all the polo games last week, and their guests last night included most of the polo players.

Program for This Week
Marked by Brilliance

This week promises to be even more brilliant than last, for the polo will be more exciting, with the two matches scheduled between Meadow Brook's famous international team and the mixed Argentine four. These two matches, set for Wednesday and Saturday, will bring out the largest gathering of society seen at any sporting event since the last game between the British and Americans at Meadow Brook in 1914. The polo will wind up on Saturday with a brilliant dinner and dance, which Mrs. David Dows will give that night at Charlton Hall, her country estate at Brookville, L. I. It will be preceded by a dinner for 100 guests, and a number of other owners of big estates on the island also will entertain.

Among other features of this week's social program are weddings, of which there are a number scheduled. On Tuesday Miss Angeline Hewlett, daughter of Mr. J. Monroe Hewlett, will become the bride of Mr. George A. Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott, of Andover, Mass. The ceremony will be performed in the old Hewlett home at Rockville, Lawrence, L. I., which has been in the family for 100 years.

Brown-Appleton Wedding
Will Take Place October 3

The marriage of Miss Mary Appleton, daughter of Mrs. H. Murray La Motte, of 137 East Sixty-sixth Street, and Cedarside, L. I., to Mr. William Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, 3d will take place on Wednesday, October 3, in St. Thomas's Church. The bride will have her sister, Mrs. J. Clarke Millholland, for her matron of honor. Her bridesmaids will be the Misses Louise Reick, Beatrice Starr, Helen Johnson, Joan Brown and Beatrice Post.

Mr. Brown, who is a grandson of Mrs. William Brown, will have Mr. William Farnsworth Jr. for his best man, and his ushers will be the Messrs. Herbert Lee Pratt Jr., J. Clarke Millholland, C. Weeks, Russell C. Clark, Donald F. Hush and Walter D. Clarke. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Kier.

Mr. Brown and his bride after their honeymoon will live on the north shore of Long Island.
